C hallenge demands perseverance . . . the determination to overcome obstacles of all kinds . . . making an attempt against all probabilities . . .

Not only in our academic studies, but in our daily lives, our social interactions, and our special interests . . . These challenges are not insurmountable, but attainable.

Winter presented its own challenge with its relentless snow storms ,freezing winds . . . walking to classes was a major task.

We, as individuals were faced with choices, both academically and socially . . . defining and redefining our unique goals . . . in a pursuit of happiness and self-satisfaction that led us in different directions.

Late nights, long hours, and hard work on the academics were rewarded with leisurely time to just ENJOY . . . being with friends . . . taking time out to live. Through knowing ourselves, accepting ourselves, knowing others, accepting others, and loving all, we were able to face the future with confidence and strength.

Challenge

Running in different directions, the seniors faced major challenges.

AMONG THE SENIORS

Graduate school? Law school? Medical school? Job market? Which way to run?

Uncertainty and relief reigned. Where would we be next year at this time? The choice was ours . . . and we decided.

The thrill of choice was overwhelming after four solid years of academics.

RETROSPECT

In the Fall of 1974, we began our college days at Muhlenberg College. Orientation included the usual square dance, picnic at the president's house, and presentation of the "Muhlenberg Scrapbook." Once the novelty of the place wore off, academia set in. Party raids, fraternity parties, plays, movies, and Program Board parties broke up the routine of studying. Finals week hit and papers were due.

After the Winter break, the process began again—classes, papers, exams, and anxiety. The long-awaited Spring arrived and more festivities were scheduled. Dorney Park Day, ODK Carnival, GUTT Day, and Spring Sing highlighted the Spring calendar. When classes and finals were completed, everyone headed in different directions for the summer.

Sophomore year went even faster than the previous year. The campus seemed to decrease in size as we realized how small Muhlenberg really was. Many people, whom we met freshman year, had transferred to other colleges; the attrition rate seemed phenomenal. The social life perked up with the appearance of such personalities as Billy Joel and Rod Serling. As sophomores, we learned how to play the academic game—the least amount of effort with the greatest results.

The campus took on a new appearance with the construction of the Center for the Arts. Fine arts were to be stressed in the cultural life of the Muhlenberg Community. Expectations for the success of the project were high.

In 1976, the Center for the Arts was completed. Reactions to the structure were diverse. While some admired the uniqueness of the building, others thought it to be an impractical, extravagant piece of abstract art.

Coats and coats of white paint covered the brick structure; The paint job seemed to be a losing battle; Chipping and peeling paint plagued various sections of the Center. Monroe Denton, Director for the Center, worked with the Muhlenberg Community to bring numerous cultural events to the campus. Student productions of Taming of the Shrew and "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" were performed in the setting of the Center's Theatre.

By junior year, we were eager to get out of the Muhlenberg rut and move on to bigger and better things. Fraternities offered some social life to the campus. Happy Hour, MFC Weekend, and fraternity parties served as outlets of frustration and boredom incurred by the academic life. The thought of being a senior brought both relief and anxiety.

Senior year meant big decisions. Interviews, resumes, and applications were part of the scene. Waiting to hear if we were accepted or rejected for a position was a consequence of the tight job market game. Who we knew, rather than what we knew, became more the rule, than the exception.

Senior year also meant good times and taking it easy. Spending time with friends was far more important than studying. Senior pub nights and the Senior Ball were the highlights of the year. The Senior Pledge Drive, using the motto "Now is the time . . . 'Berg is the place." was an outstanding success.

Mixed emotions seemed to set the tone of May 21, 1978—Graduation Day. The formalities of the ceremony progressed rapidly. After the graduation, seniors scattered to be with their families and friends. Suddenly, we all journeyed in separate directions towards new and promising ways of life, taking with us the memories of our Muhlenberg days.

Muhlenberg faculty members presented us with diverse academic challenges.

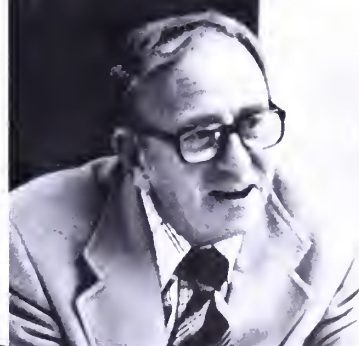

Qualifications and standards were set by each individual educator.

From the humanities to the sciences, educators directed us to delve into the ever-increasing expanding world of knowledge.

They stimulated and guided our intellectual capacities to meet their high academic challenges.

A CENTURY OF SERVICE

In the second century of the Christian age the church father Tertullian asked a question that has nagged the minds of thinking people ever since. It was: "What does Athens have to do with Jerusalem; academe with the temple? Throughout history the answer has been incarnated in a procession of distinguished religious thinkers, who, because they were teachers, influenced both the hearts and minds of countless people, thus changing the world.

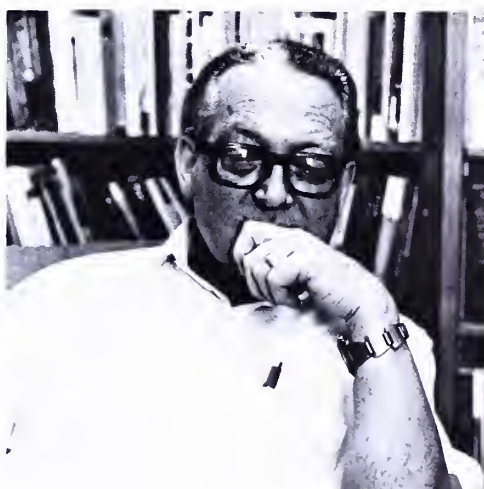

Where faith and knowledge, belief and reason, confession and profession, meet and mate in the person of a teacher, then ideas will be born. These ideas, taking shape in the waiting molds of students minds will give form and substance to the future of the culture. Such a meeting took place in the one whom the class of 1978 honors on this page in this, our book.

The Rev. Dr. Hagen Staack, matured in a ravaged Europe in the time of the Third German Reich, and called to the ministry of the Confessing Church of Germany in a time when martyrdom of its members was a reality, was eventually led to bring the "good news" to us in this free land in 1945. A full-time parish pastor for almost a decade, he came to Muhlenberg College as a professor and head of the department of religion in 1954.

Since that time his facile mind, his pedagogic prowess, and his pastoral nature have made him respected and beloved by thousands of students. He is recognized around the world as a stimulating lecturer, author, television and radio personality and tireless traveler. His ecumenical concerns have been recognized on the highest level of Christian and Jewish dialogue.

We know him best, however, as a direct, humorous, demanding, informative and entertaining teacher of a wide variety of courses on religious topics. Whatever our own faith, or lack of it, has been, he never failed to make us face and challenge our own assumptions. Because of his demand that we not accept "cheap grace," thousands of us have been enlivened to put into practice the values of the spirit we each happen to hold as true.

Tertullian implied the impossibility of faith and knowledge having any common ground. That is belied by Hagen Staack. We pray that his God may continue to grant him a teaching ministry in the years ahead and that eager minds and hearts will continue to heed him.

A CENTURY OF SERVICE

PROFESSOR OF SPEECH AND DRAMA

The service of Dr. Andrew Erskine to the College has spanned four decades, which certainly must be among the longest records of this institution. Coming on campus in 1942, he taught literature courses the first several years. By 1948, he had received an M.A. in Speech from the University of Alabama, and three years later, he had earned the Ph. D from New York University. From that time until now, his title of "Professor of Speech and Drama" has accurately described his work in the English Department. What began as a single course in Public Speaking expanded into a good number of courses in speech and drama. This core constituted his major teaching with the addition of English 3, Advanced Freshman English. This Honors class, which Dr. Erskine taught for the last twenty years, thrived on intellectual excitement and lively discussion. Erskine's presence, complete with posture and pipe of the archetypal professor, will be remembered with pleasure by many of these students.

Dr. Erskine's career not only spanned four decades, but his work in theatre production spanned three locations. Auspiciously, in his opening semester, he directed the first Shakespearean production ever mounted at Muhlenberg: Romeo and Juliet (an undergraduate named Claude Dierolf played Capulet). Two or three plays a year continued to be produced in the Science Auditorium. Later, in the early sixties, the theatre moved to the Garden Room stage of Seegers Union, and as before, Mask and Dagger, the student theatre organization, continued under Dr. Erskine's leadership to produce several plays each year. His vision of the role of theatre at Muhlenberg found tangible manifestation in the opening for the Center for the Arts in 1976. Some sixty Muhlenberg productions in which Dr. Erskine was involved culminated in his designing the set for The Good Doctor last fall.

Many other achievements mark Dr. Erskine's time among us: coach of the fencing team for fifteen years, including several students who were gold medalists; advisor to the College Bowl team of Muhlenberg on network television in 1961 in which we routed a strong John Hopkins entry; one of the initiators of the freshman advising program begun in the fifties; and parliamentarian at faculty meetings to keep the members informed of the nuances of Roberts' Rules of Order.

More than two dozen articles and reviews have been published in scholarly journals under Erskine's name, and he has contributed to many community activities, including a long term as Speech Consultant for the Neuro-psychiatric Clinic of Allentown Hospital.

A man of wise wit, usually encapsulated in his familiar one-liners; a man who loves Italy, especially Florence, for it embodies his ideal of Renaissance wholeness; a man who respects St. Francis as a saint for all seasons; most of all, a man who has given a life of faithful service to the College—Muhlenberg is proud to honor you.

-N. Vos

HOW SHALL WE REMEMBER JOHN REED?

We shall think of him intently puzzling out a problem in class. We shall see him cheerily greeting students—his own and others—as he strides the familiar paths of the campus. Summer students will recall his murderous serves on the tennis court. Faculty members will remember his familiar arguments, designed to protect that endangered species, the faculty, from the depredations of administrators.

Dr. Reed's long and faithful service to the College involves a wide area of interests and friends. He headed the department of history for a number of years with vigor and effectiveness. With great devotion he nurtured and devised the American Studies program and represented Muhlenberg in its national leadership. His faithful work on faculty committees and on AAUP; his involvement with students in creating the Honor Code; his deep love of music and travel, and his strange passion for quantification: all these are a part of the complex, beloved and influential figure so long associated with history at Muhlenberg.

We shall remember Dr. Reed for his devotion to students in the classroom—for his belief in the discussion process in history, his search for the correct and direct word, his unwillingness to stop until an idea was well and fully developed.

We shall remember Dr. Reed for his devotion to scholarship—for his conviction that research and teaching are forever and deeply intertwined; for his conviction that scholarly study in the Library of Congress is a direct means to sounder introductory lectures in freshman history courses. We shall never forget the early Whig conventions or the menaces of the McCarthy era or the glories of Jeffersonian democracy—not if once we have heard Dr. Reed eloquently proclaim their lasting importance.

And so to answer the question: we remember John Reed as an inspiration and a friend to colleagues and students alike. Our memories are the best thanks we can offer.

—K. Van Ende

HIS TRUE SUBJECT IS PEOPLE

Dr. Frounfelker's association with Muhlenberg College dates back more than forty years to 1937 when he came to Muhlenberg as a student. After serving in the armed forces during World War II he returned to the College as Veterans Administrator, Supervisor of the Guidance Center, later as Registrar and then in 1969 as full-time Associate Professor in the Psychology Department.

He holds the Master of Arts Degree which he obtained from Lehigh University in 1953 and the Doctor of Education which he obtained from Temple University in 1962. The quality of his scholarship is indicated by his having received from Temple University the Gold Medal Award for the Quality of the Dissertation.

As a member of the Muhlenberg Faculty in an administrative capacity, Dr. Frounfelker served on regular faculty committees on forty-five different occasions. He played a major role in all of the periodic evaluations of Muhlenberg College by the Middle States Association preparing data and writing reports. He is more recently known for his conduct of the Institutional Goals Inventory for the latest Middle States Accreditation.

From the beginning of his career, Dr. Frounfelker's interest was in psychology, particularly that aspect which actively attempted to help people solve their problems. His pursuit of this interest brought him into personal contact with many of the 'greats' in psychology such as Carl Rogers, Fritz Perls, and Abraham Maslow. As Associate Professor of Psychology his dedication was always to the needs of the student. In his words: "The teaching of psychology is more than the presentation of 'objective' facts. People face real problems. If education has anything to say, it ought to relate these real problems which people face."

BERNHEIM HOUSE

Central to the girls who occupy 'das Bernheim Haus' is the german culture and language. Its inhabitants are german majors who are required to speak the language within the house. This strengthens the unity of a single-major house and provides practice and experience in speaking a foreign language.

CARDINAL KEY

The Cardinal Key continued its traditional service in conducting tours for curious, prospective students, and hosting the 'day on campus' program. Most visiting alumni and community groups met with Cardinal Key members upon their arrival on the campus. Big Name found this club helpful when it came time to set up and usher a concert. Freshmen, who meet this club during orientation, often join the group as a starting point in becoming part of the college.

M. Evangelisti, B. Davis, J. Gompers, A. Stanley.

Hectic plans for a Johnny's Dance Band appearance made by the Sophomore Class Officers were rendered futile by the snowstorms, however the class kept busy with working out the details of the Sophomore-Freshman Dance, a Valentine Semi-Formal, and a book sale each semester. Added to the officers' duties were the responsibilities of conducting Banner Day during the soccer game against Gettysburg and decorating the Union windows for the Christmas holidays.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

A wine and cheese party featuring 100 Proof was on the top of the Junior Class's activity list. The class of '79 also participated on Banner Day and provided the popular Valentine's Day Cookie Sale. The Junior Prom included a caricaturist, crepes, cheese, and grapes.

D. Borislow, D. Shulman, M. Schwartz, C. Ekizian.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

B. Christensen, B. Goldfinger, S. Faye, S. Klein.

What a way to make the year fly by! Pub nights along with the fabulous Senior Ball were favorites among the seniors. The Senior Pledge Drive was successful beyond all expectations as was the ODK Carnival and the fun-filled Senior Weekend. A beer party, cocktail party, and senior picnic brought seniors to the point they had all been waiting for . . . graduation.

DANCE CLUB

Creation in artistic movement culminated in the annual Dance Concert ably presented by the Dance Club. This year's program included student-choreographed numbers from Bach to ELO which attested to the group's versatility and originality. Many of the members participated in the programs of Rod Rogers and Margalite, the touring dance companies which visited Muhlenberg and Cedar Crest colleges.

FORENSIC SOCIETY

A spectacular record was set by the Forensics Club this year as they traveled through five states winning twenty-eight awards in eleven tournaments. Two of the outstanding honors gained by the debaters were the H. L. Menken Pentathlon Award at Towson State University, Maryland and the Madhatter Pentathlon Award at Bloomsberg State College, Pennsylvania. A pentathlon award is best overall in five combined events.

HENRIETTA HOUSE

The sixteen residents of the Margaret Henrietta House throughout the year have planned activities to fulfill their house project such as wine and cheese parties, sing-a-longs, and the intramural soccer, volleyball, and softball teams characterized by bright, gold, 'Hen House' T-shirts. Members of Millerheim, next-door neighbors, shared their culinary talents in a lasagna and pizza dinner. The girls wish to extend their special thanks to Helene Hospodar, the faculty advisor.

SPORTS

A black and white photograph of a football player, number 75, sitting on a bench. He is wearing a dark jersey with the number 75, white pants, and a white helmet with the number 75. He is looking towards the camera. The background shows a large crowd of spectators in bleachers.

The 1977 Mule football season started with a great deal of optimism due to the return of 19 starters from the previous year's 5-3-1 team. After winning the first three games, hopes for an undefeated season were dashed at Lebanon Valley in the final three seconds, 14-16. The Mules went on to compile a final 6-3 record, including a 21-0 white-washing of Dickinson and a come from behind season ending triumph over arch-rival Moravian. There were a great number of fine individual performances this season, including those of Mark Stull and John McCusker, who were named ALL MAC, and Bill Dumchus and John Schlechter, who received Honorable Mention ALL MAC. Both John Sules and Jerry Fahy had 200 yard games and gained ECAC honors. Also receiving ECAC honors were John Sartori, Chuck Smith, Don Somerville and John Dean who received the honor twice this season. While 13 dedicated Seniors will graduate, the Mules have many outstanding players returning to form the nucleus for a fine 1978 team.

SOCCKER

After a four year stint with a combined 44-17-4 record, one conference championship, and two ECAC championships, the Mules now lose eleven Seniors to graduation from this year's 11-5-1 team. Among those Seniors is Randy Kutz, who this year became the all-time Muhlenberg leading scorer with 61 career goals. Kutz, along with fellow co-captains Brad Leathers and Randy Light, also earned a berth on the MAC All-Conference team.

The Kutz-Light scoring combination provided the bulk of the goal production during the 1977-78 season, with able help from Todd Cassell, Fred Rittenger, Ken Walsh, and Greg Wible, among others. Sparked by an emotional 2-1 opening win over a strong LaSalle team, the Mules began a home field domination which saw the Mules go undefeated at home.

During a mid-season winning streak, the Mule defense, lead by goalie Jon Henning, and fullbacks Joe Mangone, Ken Boyle, Jim Galgano, Brad Leathers, and Todd Pretz, allowed only six goals and recorded three shutouts. Coach Mottola's booters saw their efforts rewarded with an invitation to the ECAC tournament. Winning their first battle against top-seeded Bloomsburg, the Mules were eliminated by the national power of the University of Baltimore, much to the dismay of a large contingent of Muhlenberg fans who made the trip to the tournament.

The loss of eleven Seniors, many of whom have started since their freshman year is sure to take its toll. However, with a fine tradition of soccer at Muhlenberg left by former Coach Lauchner, much confidence in present Coach Mottola, and a fine nucleus of underclassmen, soccer should continue to thrive at Muhlenberg, while the memories of this year's Seniors linger on.

CROSS

The Mule distance squad had a disappointing 1977 season, winning only 5 out of 15 dual meets. Injury, apathy, and lack of depth were problems this year. One bright spot, however; was Junior Howard Gerstein, who finished first in 8 meets. Other stand-outs were Junior Paul Leodori, and Senior captian, Mark Rogoff. In the MASCAS championship, the Mules finished 8th, slightly better than last year.

HOCKEY

A 2-4-2 record should not be considered an accurate representation of the determination, dedication and playing ability of the women on the field hockey team as coached by Mrs. Helene Hospodar.

Daily practices indicated excellent ball-handling and goal scoring abilities by the entire offensive line. The eight goals of the season were scored by Carla Lightkep (3), Roberta Lippman (3), Sandy Griffing (1), and Lauren Zehner (1). Had the offensive line not been backed by the team's superb defense, many more goals may have been scored against 'Berg. Half-backs Jacki Stymiest, Karen Greider, Kathy Knodt, and co-captain Elaine Robson, backed by the powerful fullbacks Dawn Eilenberger and co-captain Arlene Darlington provided goalie, Melanie DeMagistris with reliable defensive combat game after game.

Elected to the 1977 Lehigh Valley College Field Hockey Association All Star 1st Team was Carla Lightkep at center forward and 2nd team All Star goalie was Melanie DeMagistris. Muhlenberg veterans say goodbye to Seniors Karyn Helin, Elaine Robson and Arlene Darlington and welcome new members to help produce a winning team in 1978.

WRESTLING

The 1978 grapplers under the direction of Coach DiGiacomo, found the season nearly over while their winning streak had just begun. The season ended with wins against Haverford, Upsala and Ursinus, and hopes that next year's season will be a continuation of such wins. Outstanding individual efforts by all Seniors will indeed spur on the returning members to aim for an even better 1979 season.

FENCING

The scoreboard should not be considered indicative of the efforts put forth by all members of the fencing team, both men and women alike. Although the men appeared to be closing in on their opponents, time ran out. The women's team continued to suffer from lack of experience as a varsity squad. Both teams hope for an increased interest in the sport by the underclassmen. Individual Senior efforts by both squads have encouraged returning members to strive for a better season next year.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

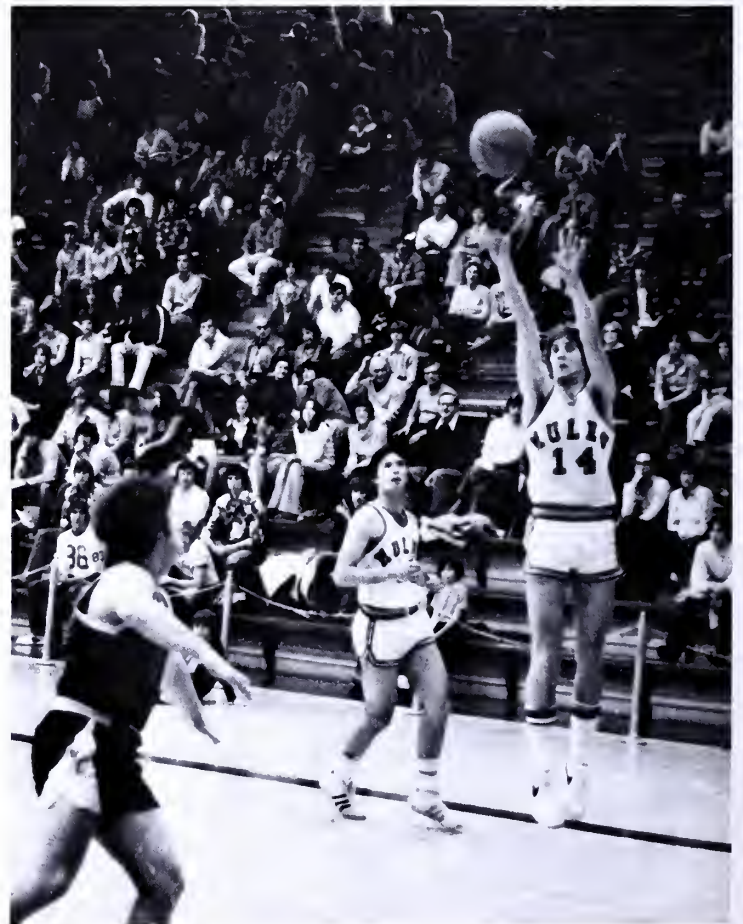

Although the scoreboard shows an improvement over last year's season, the general feeling is that it could have been better had the team not had to face their eight toughest games in a row. Many outstanding individual efforts should be noted, especially those of Seniors Bob Freed, and Jim Hay, Juniors Greg Campisi and Jim Johnson and Freshman Danny Barletta. The Seniors will be missed next year, as most of them have been on the squad since their Freshman year. With many talented underclassmen returning next year, the 1978-79 season promises to be an exciting one.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Another disappointing season plagued the women's basketball team this year. The main reason attributed to the 3-8 record was lack of experienced players, many Freshmen playing their first college games. Graduation claims Senior tri-captain Wendy Stitch, whose height was valued as was her experience. Coach Seagreeves hopes to groom this young team for the upcoming seasons.

LACROSSE

Despite their overall record, the 1978 lacrosse team played considerably better than last season. The team received a new coach just two days before the start of the season, which meant both playing habits and strategy would have to be readjusted. Several seniors will be leaving the squad this year and each has made outstanding contributions this season, as they had in previous seasons.

BASEBALL

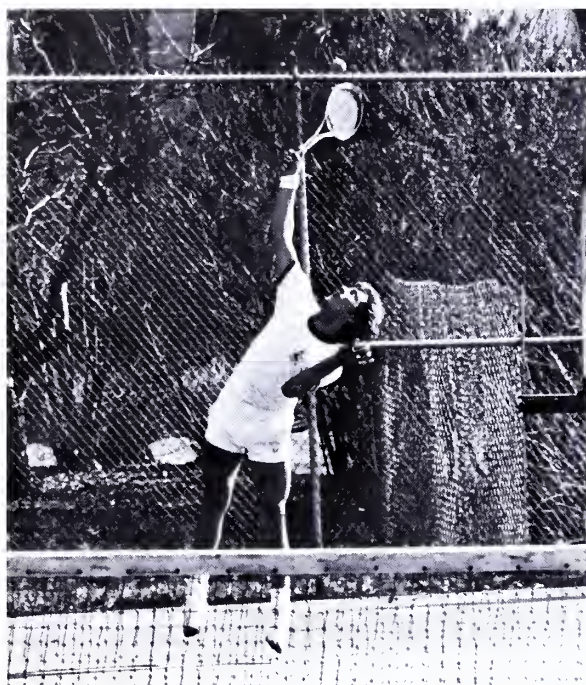

The 1978 baseball season proved to be much more successful than the previous 4-12 season of last year. The team won seven of their first nine games and noted for their efforts are: Yogi Edwards, John Oberly, Mark Kweatkoski, John Sartori, Don Summerville, and Bob Steckel. The 1979 season should be even more successful with a majority of the team's members returning.

MEN'S TENNIS

In his first season as coach, Dennis Phillips had high hopes for this 1978 squad, but a rigorous schedule took its toll on the men's tennis team. Although their first three contests resulted in defeats, the team's morale carried them through to shut out Moravian 9-0. Individual efforts by Seniors Miller, Freedenberg and Worrilow helped keep the team alive. Their experience and skill will be missed next year.

GOLF

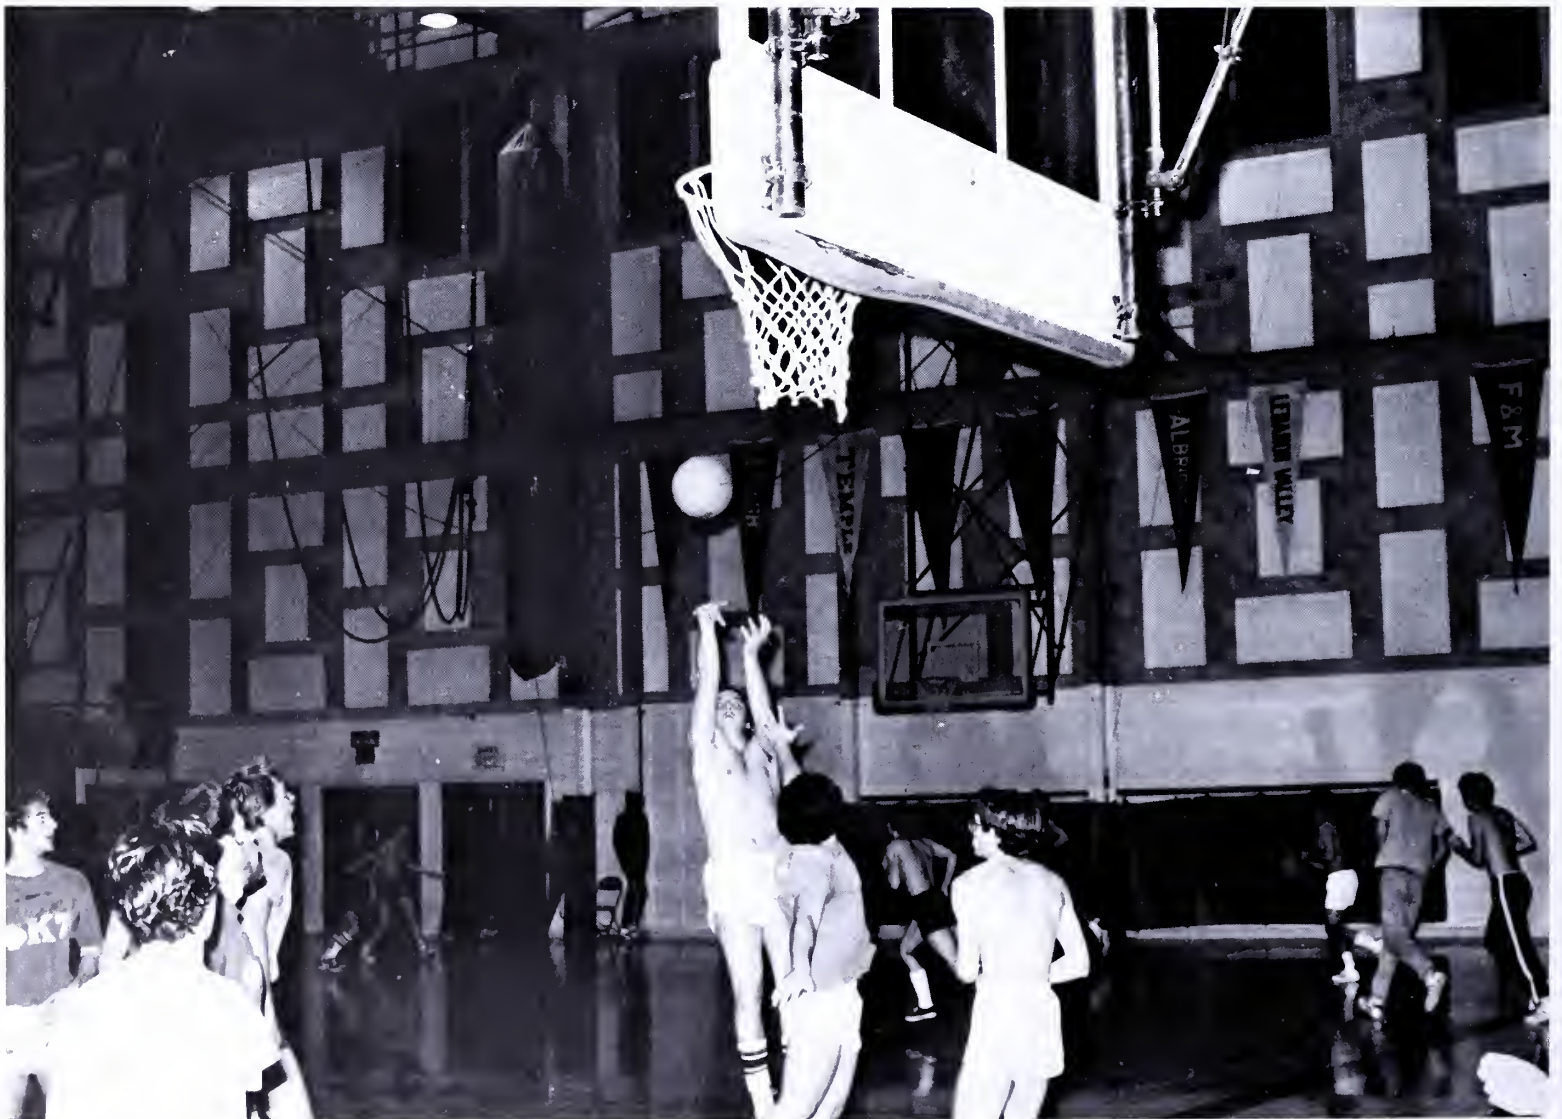

The 1978 golf team boasts an improved overall record from their past season. Seniors Jeff Jones, and Lance Branton continued to lead the team throughout this season as they have in previous seasons. The team looks toward the underclassmen to fill the gap these two talented players will leave.

INTRAMURALS

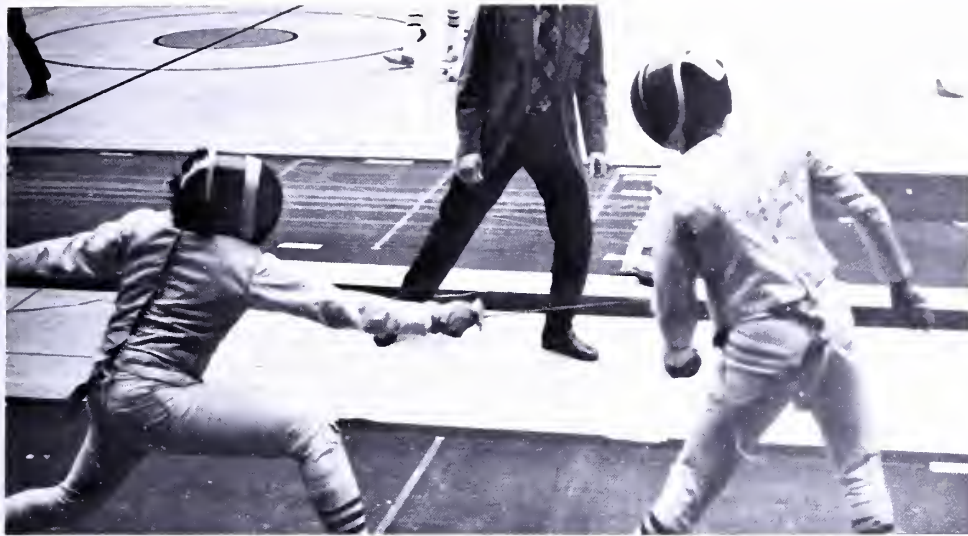

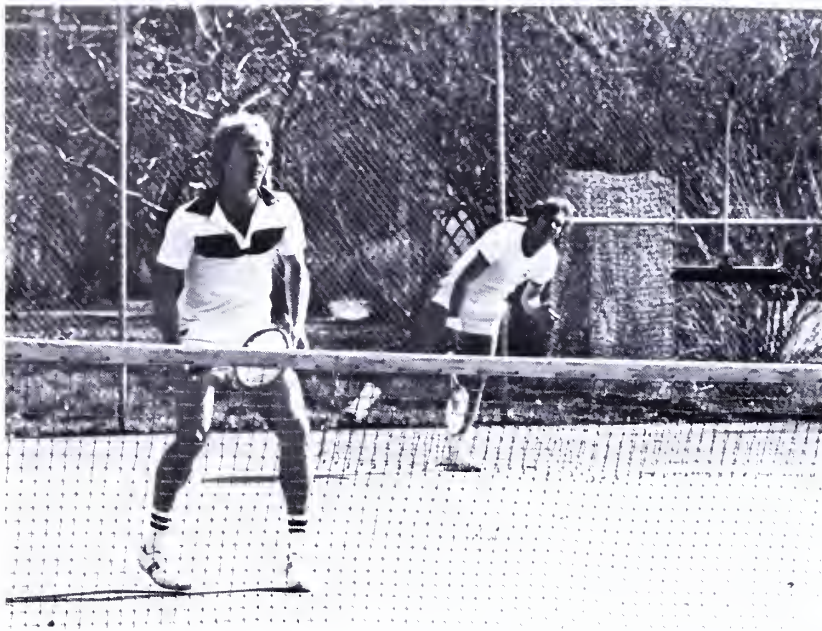

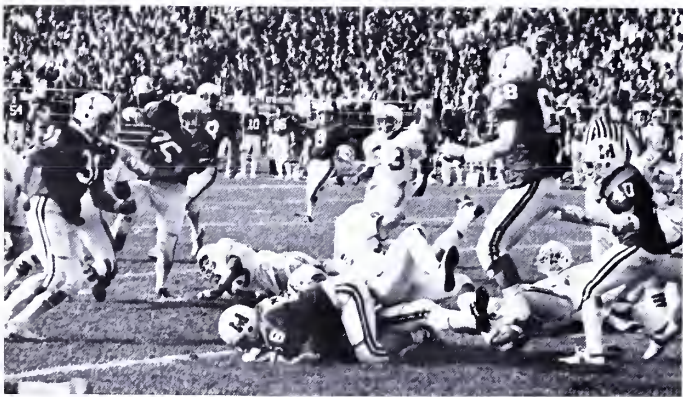

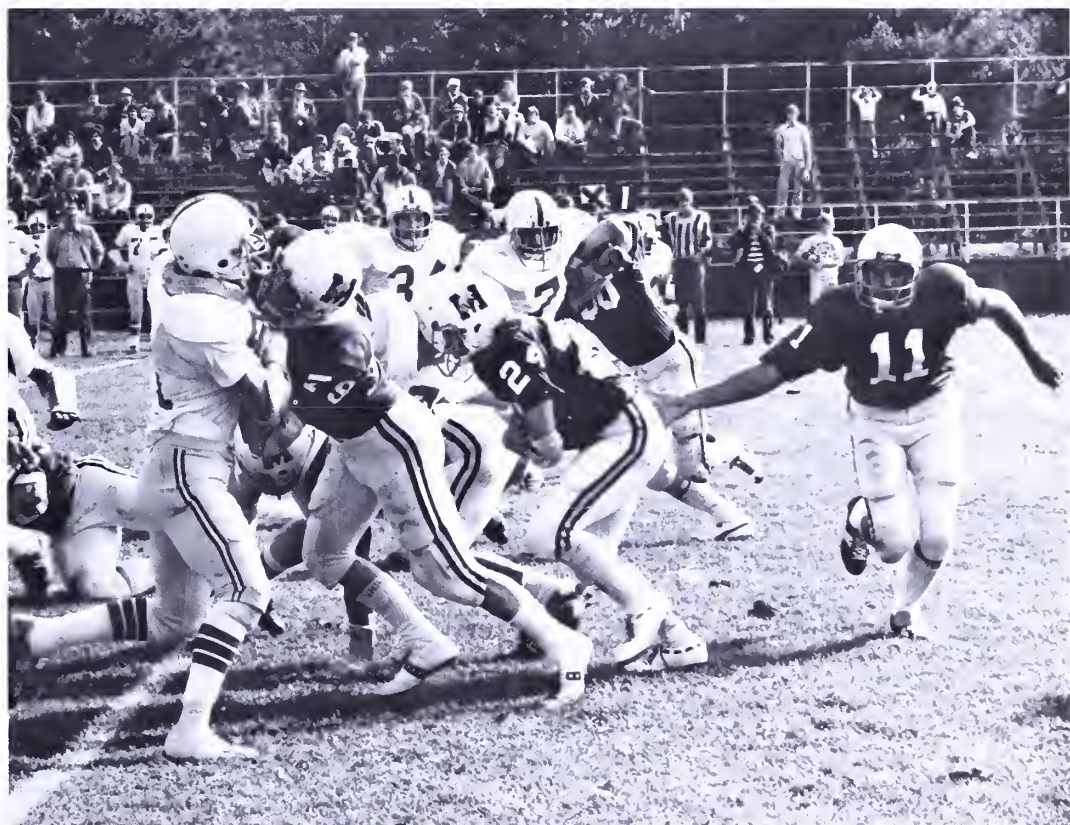

Challenge

Muhlenberg offered diverse extra-curricular activities. As we tore ourselves away from our books, we found that the social calendar was packed with plays, parties, lectures, and movies.

The social challenge was there. To become involved with the campus life added a new dimension to our academic life. These special events were entertaining, as well as informative.

NEW STUDENTS ORIENTATION

On the week of September 4, 1977, freshmen were oriented to the Muhlenberg scene. Numerous activities were planned for these new college students. The traditional events—the square dance, the Muhlenberg Scrapbook, presented by Dr. Baldrige and Dr. White, meetings with faculty and student advisors, and the picnic at the president's house—were all included on the orientation agenda. This week of fun and festivity concluded with a party on the Mall. The orientation was a well-organized attempt to familiarize students to the ins-and-outs of their new academic life.

FALL FOLK FEST

Program Board sponsored the annual Fall Folk Fest on Sunday, September 25, 1978. Due to rain, the fest was held in the Union Lobby. An array of talented students performed during the entire afternoon. Music—from folk to jazz—was heard by the Muhlenberg audience. The folk fest was one of many successful events planned by Program Board.

FALL FAMILY WEEKEND

The annual Fall Family Week-end took place on October 1 and 2, 1977. Family members and parents of students attended this special two-day program. Highlights included presentations by Dr. Morey and Dr. Stenger, the Muhlenberg-Western Maryland football game, and the Muhlenberg-Lebanon Valley cross country meet. Evening entertainment was a recital by pianist Charles Rosen and the annual Parents Week-end Review, a faculty-student talent show.

In keeping with tradition, the Muhlenberg College students banded together to display their talents during Family Weekend. This year, "The Gong Show" was presented to the visiting parents. Lee Frost was the master of ceremonies of this array of "talent" (?). The judges were a few select members of the college's administration and faculty. It was a unique, if not entertaining, evening for the participants as well as for the audience.

HOMECOMING WEEKEND

Muhlenberg College Alumni and their families returned to campus for the 1977 Homecoming festivities on the weekend of October 22. Saturday's activities were highlighted by a football game between Muhlenberg and Dickinson. The enormous Muhlenberg crowd cheered the team on to a great victory.

Halftime activities included the presentation of the Sidney G. Weikert Sophomore Athlete of the Year Award to Yogi Edwards and the introduction of the 1977 Homecoming Queen, Barbara Shoemaker. Also, Lona Gross was presented a plaque from Program Board for her devotion and service to Muhlenberg College.

CASINO NIGHT

The Program Board sponsored a Casino Night for alumni, families, and students during the Homecoming Weekend. Participants bought play money and gambled to their heart's content. Later in the evening, an auction was held for the gamblers to spend their winnings. The auction items were donated by students, professors, and community businesses.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

In keeping with the Halloween tradition, many Muhlenberg students carved pumpkins at the annual Halloween Party in the Union. Thursday evening of October 27 was the date for this great festivity. Students tore themselves away from their books to partake in this Program Board event. Unique jack-o-lanterns resulted in this evening's activities of fun and diversion.

WAITING FOR GODOT

Waiting . . . waiting, two common tramps bide their time in anticipation of the mysterious personage Godot. Robert D. Cole (as Estrogon, "Gogo") and Coby Noel Batty (or Vladimir, "Didi") effectively portrayed these two personalities in the North County Players' moving production of Samuel Beckett's tragic comedy Waiting for Godot. The great orator Pozzo (George M. Dunlap) and his manslave, Lucky (Henry Corra) also gave excellent performances and added to the success of this classic drama. The strongest point of this production was the players' absorbing and fast-paced execution of Beckett's paradoxical and suggestive dialogue. Two performances, presented on November 9 and 10, were viewed and enjoyed by huge audiences in the Center for the Arts.

THEATRE ASSOCIATION

THE WHO

The rock opera of the late 1960's that remains at the pinnacle of the genre was performed in December at Muhlenberg College. The production "Tommy" involved much student cooperation, input, and imagination. Under the direction of Monroe Denton and produced by Patrick Chmel, "Tommy" starred L. Bryan Kay as Tommy Walker. The talented cast enabled this rock opera to be a success. The music, performed by an all-Muhlenberg student group, was under the direction of John DeAngelis. The play exposed the Muhlenberg community to a unique and entertaining experience in the arts.

BIG NAME CONCERTS

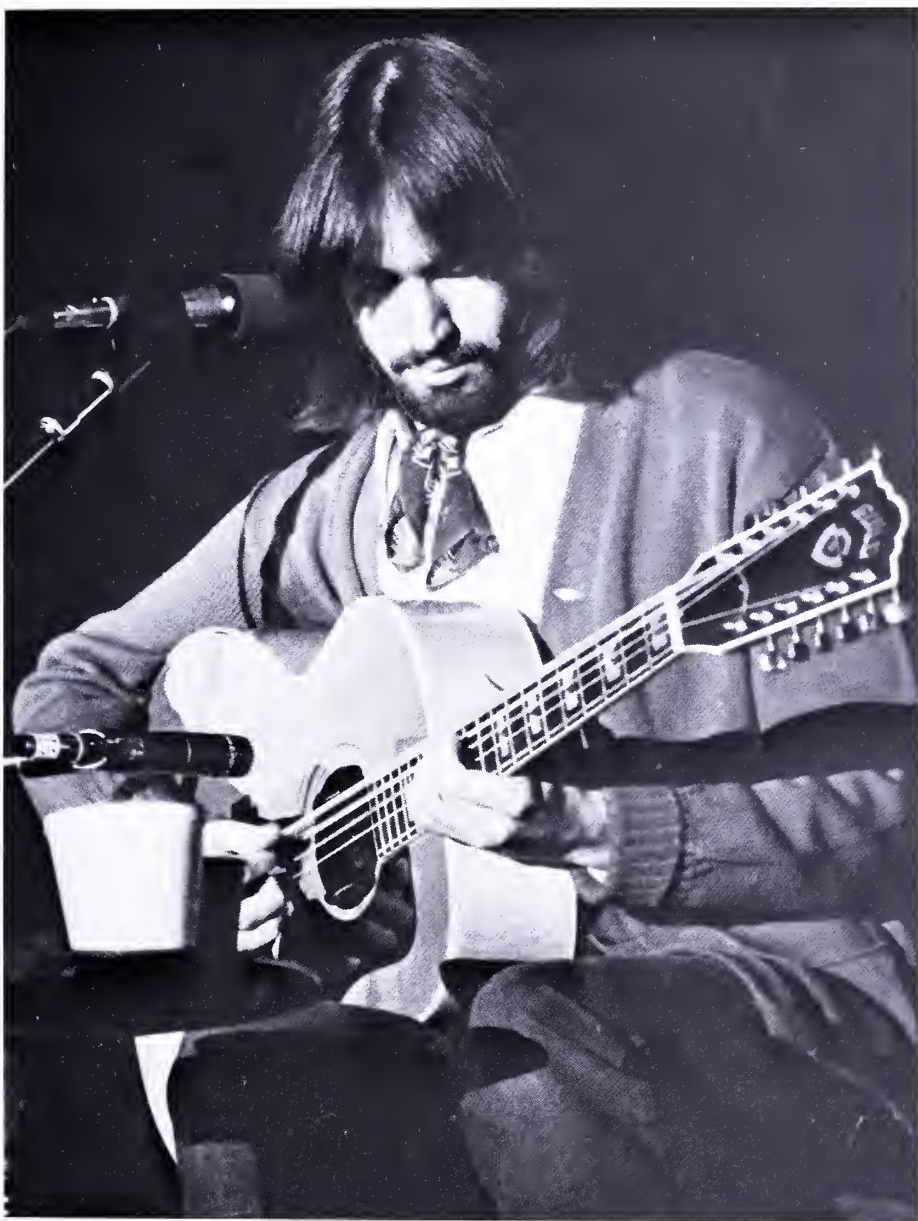

Frank Zappa and his entourage entertained an electrified audience on October 8, 1977. Specializing in musical satire, Zappa roused the crowd with comments about Muhlenberg, Nixon, and various rock bands. Zappa's musical prowess is not to be overlooked. Out-fitted with a well-talented group of musicians, their music filled Memorial Hall.

FRANK ZAPPA

DAN FOGELBERG

Down from the Netherlands of Colorado, Dan Fogelberg gave a memorable performance in Memorial Hall on November 15. He was well-received by a huge crowd and maintained good rapport. The audience was hypnotized by his acoustical ability and melodic voice. He was joined by Tim Weisberg, icing on an already delectable cake.

Left: Although he suffered from a cold, Dan Fogelberg gave an excellent performance which included "Netherlands," "Song from Half Mountain," and "Once Upon a Time." Below: Fogelberg played many instrumentals from Brazil '66 and Black Orpheus.

SIMON'S THE GOOD DOCTOR

The Muhlenberg College Theatre Association staged the Neil Simon/Anton Chekhov classic "The Good Doctor" in the Center for the Arts. A series of nine vignettes, "The Good Doctor" combined Simonesque and Chekhovian talents to form a mood of compassionate, bittersweet comedy.

Directed by Dr. Patrick Chmel, with the assistance of Jeff Green, the vignettes appealed to audiences of all ages and interests. The set design by Dr. Erskine enhanced the uniqueness of this presentation.

Under the fearless leadership of Dr. Charles Bednar, the College Convocations Committee designed a cultural calendar for the Muhlenberg campus. Various guest lecturers and speakers were invited to give informative presentations throughout the school year. The funds for this project were allotted from the college's budget. The committee, composed of students and faculty, met monthly to draw up plans for a diverse calendar of events.

CHRISTMAS DINNER

Christmas Dinner was extra-special during the 1977 holiday season. Steak and baked potatoes were served by the Muhlenberg faculty. Such service was to be found nowhere else. The professors not only carried the student's tray to the table, but they also helped to serve the holiday treat. One professor was overheard saying, "We're fattening them (the students) up for the kill." Reading Week was soon to begin, quickly followed by a week of deadly finals.

The Muhlenberg College Choir survived its summer singing tour of the British Isles, but will Great Britain ever recover? The thirty-three choir members and Dr. and Mrs. McClain spread the good name of Muhlenberg College throughout Britain and Scotland and got a good look at British culture and history.

London was the first stop and after checking into the not-so-plush Phoenix Hotel, the choir was to meet its tour guide, a red-haired chap named Rusty. Rusty turned out to be an Olympic sprinter, and London's sites were seen in record time.

Spare time in London was spent attending various plays and musicals, seeing all the tourist sites, dodging doubledecker busses and traffic traveling the "wrong" side of the street, horseback riding in Hyde Park, visiting local pubs, and figuring out how much money one had left.

The choir then traveled to such cities as Cambridge, Harrogate, Edinburg, Coventry, Salisbury, and Stratford. The weather was fairly constant, raining whenever the choir was to get off the bus and clearing up as soon as they were back on. Choir members experienced new and different things such as doing brass rubbings, listening to punk rock, and celebrating the Queen's Jubilee.

The choir sang in some of the largest and most beautiful cathedrals in England. The last night of the tour was spent with families of a church in Croyden. The entire trip was an enjoyable adventure for all those involved.

CHOIR TOUR

GREAT BRITAIN

JANUARY TERM

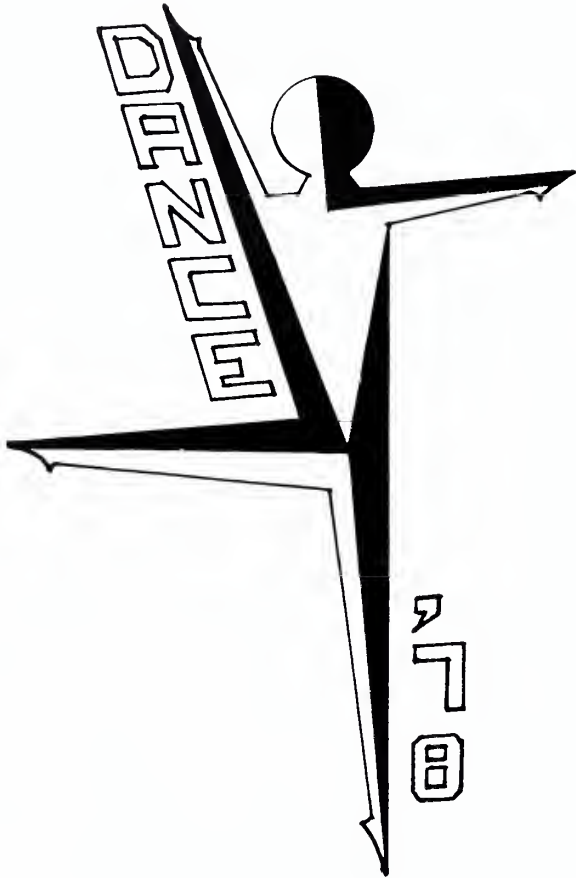

Ole Britannia . . . “the Americans are coming! ! !”

Led by the fearless Dr. and Mrs. Vos, nine Berg students braved the hustle and bustle of international travel to explore what had been billed as the “multitudinous possibilities of British theatre—past and present.” With London as home base, the group encountered various forms of the dramatic medium ranging from adventures in Shakespeariana (at Stratford-upon-Avon), including As You Like It, Coriolanus, and Henry V, to the modern experience, such as Molnar’s The Guardsman and Bennett’s The Old Country. Most of the group was favorably impressed with the quality of the acting ranging from the characteristically nasal Alan Howard (Prince Hal and Coriolanus) to the provocative Alec Guinness (Hilary in The Old Country).

Some time was set aside for independent study, and the group utilized this period to its fullest. Detachments set out from Stratford bound for such diverse locations as Paris, Dublin, Edinburgh, Cambridge, and Llandudno (a small town in North Wales) and returned to London four days later to report on personable topics such as “Paris nightlife” and “Welsh dinner-time theater.”

Periodic discussions and frequent spontaneous parties highlighted an all too short contemporary theater experience. And most of the students agreed that the food was better than any of them had expected. Fifteen days passed so quickly, yet all concerned agreed that a splendid time was had by all.

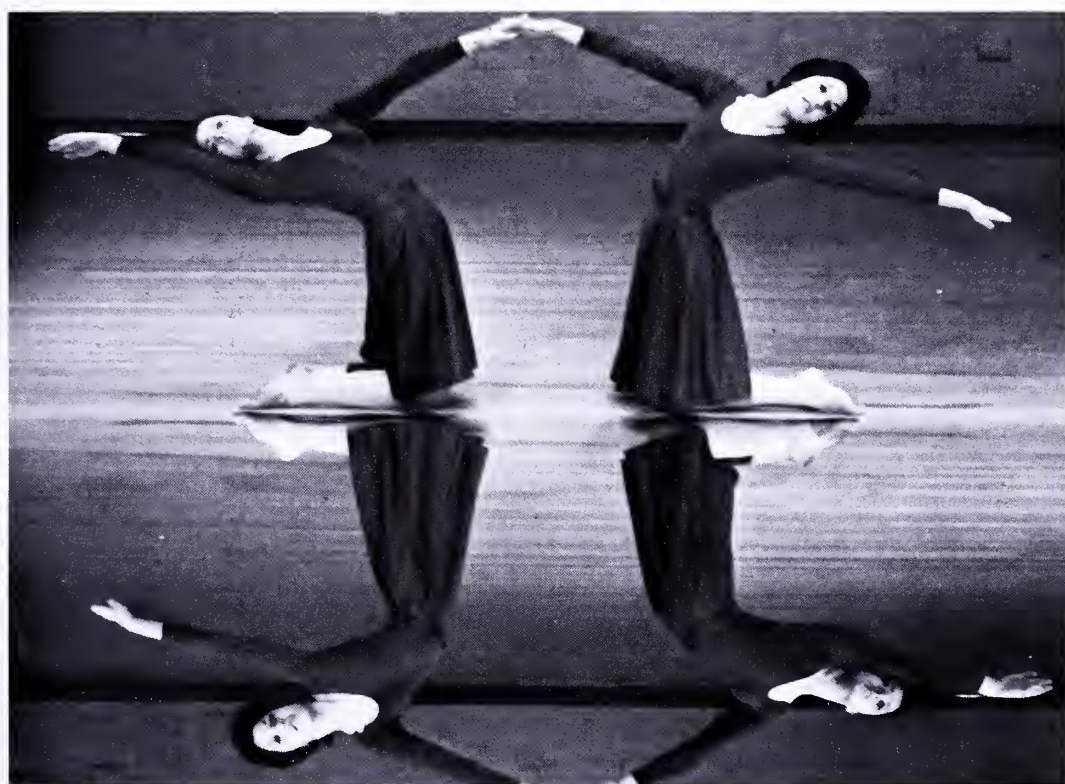

DANCE CONCERT 1978

Right: Val Parsons interprets the song "Georgia" in dance. Below: Choreographed by Michele Murray, "You Should Be Dancing" comes alive on stage.

Energy, grace, and talent combined to form an evening of fine dance and music on Thursday, February 16, 1978. Directed by Donna Rehrig, the Muhlenberg Dance Club presented a successful dance concert. Colorful costumes, interesting lighting, and careful choreography, enhanced by live accompaniment, put the finishing touches on a magnificent show.

VALENTINE'S DAY DANCE

Through the courtesy of the Class of '80, a gala night of entertainment was put together for the Valentine's Day Dance. February 10, 1978 was the date for this grand occasion. Couples danced in a romantic atmosphere in the decorated Garden Room to the music of "Thrill."

SENIOR BALL

A rousing toast to the successful Senior Pledge Drive ushered in the evening of February 18, 1978. Fine food and drink were enjoyed by 300 people attending the Senior Ball. Following the meal, couples took to the dance floor to the sounds of Springfield.

SPE RUN—A—THON

The brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon organized a sixty-five mile Run-a-Thon to raise money for the Lehigh Valley Society of Crippled Children and Adults. From Philadelphia to Allentown, the brothers ran throughout nearby towns.

The Run-a-Thon lasted the entire day of April 1, 1978. For weeks before, the fraternity accepted pledges from the Allentown and Muhlenberg Community. Going from door-to-door, the brothers were able to raise a substantial amount of money to benefit charity. The third annual Run-a-Thon was recognized as a successful endeavor.

Top Right: The exhausted SPE brothers finished the Run-a-Thon near their fraternity house. Above: The brothers are relieved to be on the final leg of the 65-mile run. Right: The brothers posed with the 1978 Poster Child for the Lehigh Valley Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

TKE SOCCER MARATHON

Twenty-two members of Tau Kappa Epsilon broke the Guinness world record for continuous soccer play during their second annual soccer marathon. The game got underway Thursday, April 6, 1978 and continued for 48 consecutive hours, ending on Saturday, April 8, 1978.

TKE accepted pledges; the proceeds for the event benefited the American Cancer Society and the Lehigh Valley Red Cross Disaster Unit. Steve Gerson and Dave Feit were the co-chairmen of this event. Spectators cheered on the TKE brothers as they staged this record-breaking marathon game.

THREE DIMENSIONAL THEATRE

During April, the Muhlenberg Theatre Association presented an evening of one-act plays. This three-dimensional theatre was student-directed and student-performed. Students celebrated the end of classes and enjoyed an evening of these unique student performances.

OPERA

The Muhlenberg Opera Group is an organization of approximately thirty students and community members who share an interest in performing opera. Inspired by the direction, expertise and sense of humor of its fearless leader Jeremy Slavin, the group performed Purcell's Dido and Aeneas and Mozart's Impressario this spring. A string orchestra, directed by Dr. Henry Schmidt, contributed to the former's success. All in all, the group is indicative of disciplined instruction, creative expression, and musical enjoyment molded into a gratifying annual performance.

CABARET

The Muhlenberg Musical Association gave five performances of Cabaret during the first two weeks of March. Guest director David Gawlikowski worked with the Muhlenberg students to present these fine performances. Cabaret is a musical portrayal of the night club life in Berlin in the early 1930's. Many students (the list—too long to present here) worked together to present outstanding entertainment for the Muhlenberg community. After over a half of semester's work, the MMA carried out a well-executed production.

Festival of the Arts

March 28-April 10, 1978

Muhlenberg College

John Gardner, a prolific writer of fact and fantasy, presented a lecture dealing with the art of literature. On March 29, Gardner appeared in the Center for the Arts Theatre. His presentation was informative and thought-provoking.

As the recipient of the 1978 National Book Critics Circle Award, Gardner's reputation as an acclaimed American writer is increasing. Gardner's richness and variety of resources, his constant and deepening vision, and his celebration of what is best in humanness unquestionably enable him to be hailed as a supremely gifted contributor to the literary world. His superlative works include October Light, Grendel, Nickel Mountain, The King's Indian, and Sunlight Dialogues.

Ansel Adam's colorful exhibit of Southwest photography contrasted the white walls of the Center for the Arts. Over 100 photographs were on exhibit for the Muhlenberg Community.

Adams is one of the greatest American photographers. His style marked by a unique combination of unexcelled technical ability and breathtaking subject matter, has earned him an international reputation and a career which has included over fifty years of major exhibitions in almost every prominent museum.

His deep respect for the natural beauty of unexplored wilderness areas are expressed in his work. One could easily see how Adam's original exposure method, the Zone System, succeed in duplicating nature's subtle tones and sharp details. His photographs left an indelible impression on the minds of many.

The Trisha Brown Dance Company conducted master classes, lectures, and workshops at both Cedar Crest and Muhlenberg. The final performance of this dance company was presented on April 5, 1978.

"If you stand back and think about what you are going to do before you do it, there is likely to be a strenuous editing process that stymies the action. On the other hand, if you set yourself loose in an improvisational form, you have to make solutions very quickly and learn how to. That is the excitement of improvisation. These are the words of Trisha Brown. After exhausting conventional methods of dance, she has placed herself in a world of her own vocabulary.

As a 1975-76 Guggenheim Fellow and the recipient of a Creative Artists Public Service Program in Choreography, Trisha Brown brought to Festival her most unique and inspiring form of dance.

FESTIVAL OF THE ARTS

Peter Lobdell made his Broadway debut with the play "EQUUS" as a horse and Director of Mime. He subsequently directed the mime for both National Touring Companies. His touring experiences have brought him in contact with audiences of all ages.

Mr. Lobdell's work is based upon the premise that dance, drama, and mime are overlapping aspects of theatre, and that each is defined by its unique point of view rather than any particular technique associated with the form.

Lobdell's performance included spoken text, musical accompaniment, dance, acrobatics, mime illusion, and abstract movement. In all but several comic pieces, he stressed dramatic content over sheer technique; his theatre was movement theatre, telling tales from a mime's point of view.

Along with two workshops in the art of mime, Mr. Lobdell presented "Transforming," a comic piece stressing illusion, mask pieces, and serious dramatic pieces plotted to musical accompaniment.

The Free Jazz Players were at Muhlenberg to share their knowledge and talent with the college community in the forms of a lecture/workshop and performance. This dynamic young modern jazz trio presented an entertaining and interesting performance of fine art form.

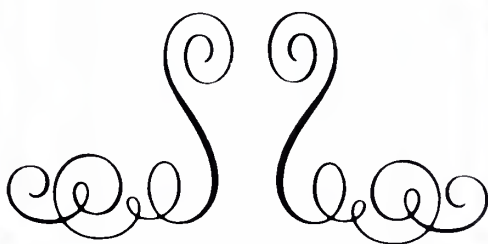

Their music might well be described as loft-jazz; that is, the notes that are being played throughout the lofts of New York City. The members of the trio, Nick DiGeronomo, Doug Howard, and Eugene DiGeronomo, have jammed with Anthony Braxton. They have been taught by some of the finest of today's living jazzmen.

Rita Reichman's talent as an accomplished pianist is unquestionable. Her recital showed a depth that would not be expected in such a young performer. On the technical level, her playing met high expectations. She performed with great facility, and she brought about the poetic and introspective depth of music.

During her performance, Miss Reichman played many Beethoven selections. Playing with ease, she captured the mood and clarity of tone with magnificent expressiveness. She also included compositions by Debussy, Chopin, and Schubert. Miss Reichman's fine performance marked one of the many highlights of the Festival of the Arts Calendar.

Jack Reilly's highly imaginative music, a synthesis of traditional and formal classical with jazz, ethnic, and modern captured the interest of many Muhlenberg students. Duende presented a concert entitled "The Music of Jack Reilly and George Gershwin." Some of the selections included Gershwin's "Summertime." "I Got Plenty of Nuttin;" and "Fascinating Rhythm."

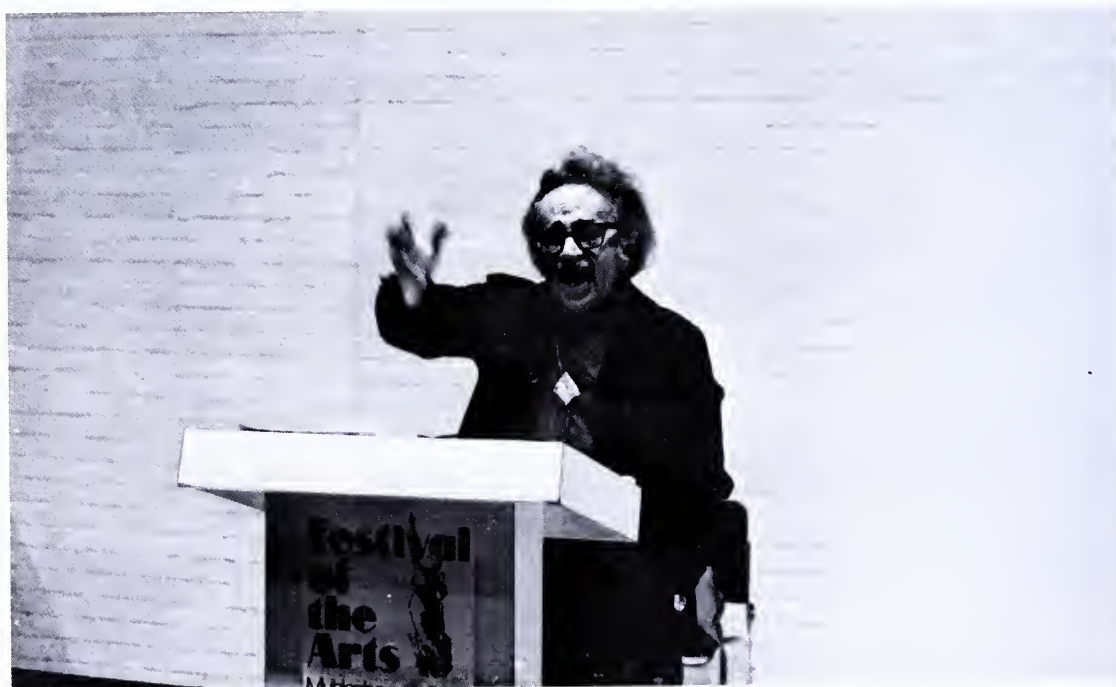

In a Down Beat readers' poll in 1977, Reilly was a high scorer in the best pianist and composer ratings. His punching and driving jazz appealed to the Muhlenberg Community. Particularly, Reilly's lyrical, original, and moving pieces enhanced this generally entertaining performance.

JACOB LANDAU

Jacob Landau, an intriguing fantasy painter, presented a lecture entitled "Future as Art". His lecture concerned the relationship between art and other academic disciplines, with an emphasis on art as it pertains to science. He spoke about the loss of the artistic side of the human personality in our culture, and the development of today's art and the art of the future.

Mr. Landau interacted with students and discussed his personal insights in the world of art. His works were on display throughout the Center for the Arts.

CRAFTS DAY

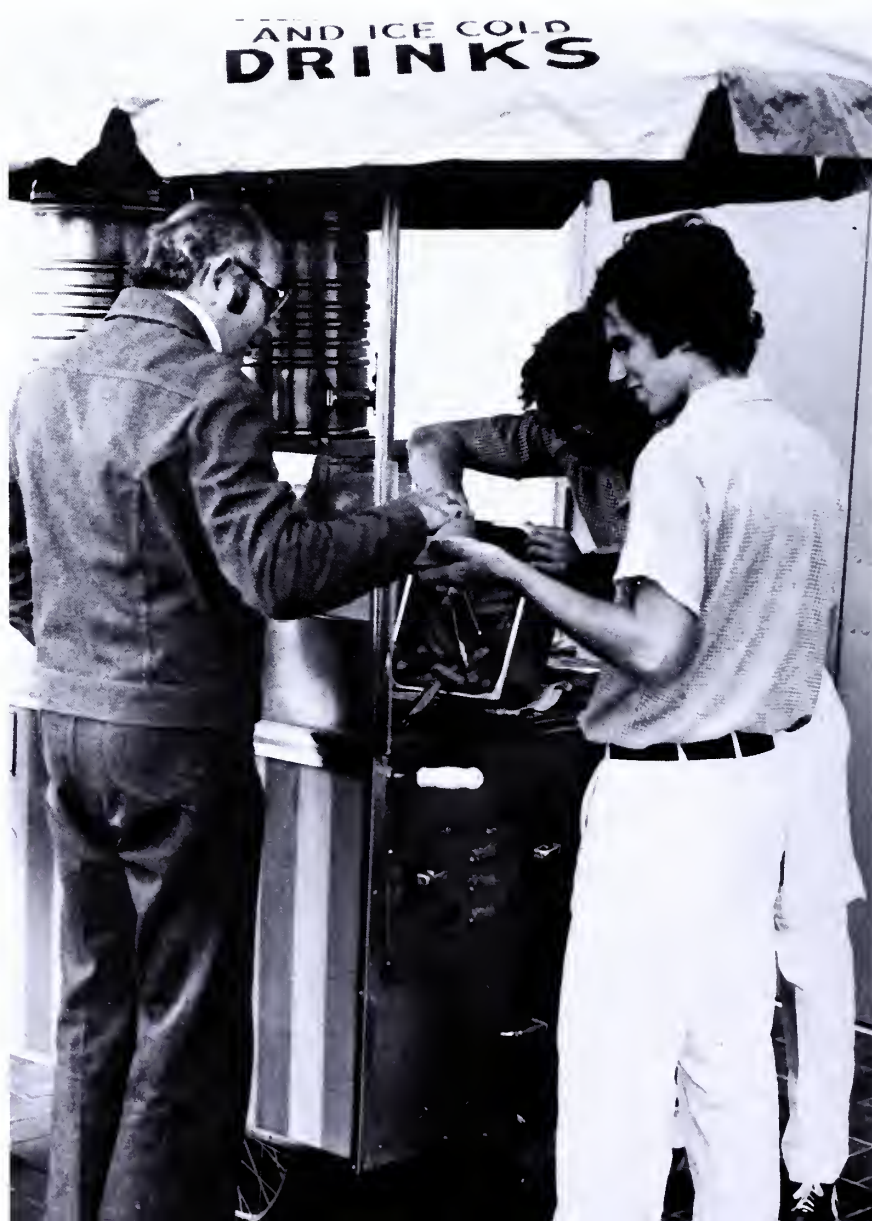

The Center for the Arts bustled with activity on April 2, 1978. A full day of extravaganza of a crafts' display was featured to meet all interests. Professional craftspeople from the Pennsylvania-New Jersey Area exhibited, sold, and demonstrated their particular art forms. This festival of the Arts tradition provided a leisurely time for the community to browse, purchase, and merely experience the diverse arts. To enhance the festive spirit, folk singers entertained in the CA Recital Hall throughout the day.

To cap off the day's events, Daniel Wohl, a Muhlenberg senior, performed IMAGO, his own uniquely designed "music-theatre production" in the CA Theatre. His premiere presentation included a sampling of several original instrumentals and vocals from a score of eighteen songs.

CRAFTS DAY

SPRING FOLK FEST

Muhlenberg talent came to the limelight to partake in the annual spring folk fest. The outdoor concert in the Mall enabled many students to catch some sun while listening to their fellow students perform popular and folk music. On that warm Sunday afternoon, on April 23, 1978, the performers and the audience took time away from studying for the upcoming finals to enjoy the concert.

DORNEY PARK DAY

Dorney Park Day has been a successful tradition for many years. The 1978 Dorney Park Day was no exception to the rule. Muhlenberg students invaded the grounds of this great Allentown amusement park for a full day of rides and fun. Saturday, April 29, 1978 was the day set aside for this extravaganza. What a better way to spend a Saturday than at Dorney Park!

The annual Omicron Delta Kappa Carnival was held on April 30, 1978. Various organizations on campus sponsored booths; cotton candy, ice cream, knockwurst, donuts, and brownies were sold during this festivity. While one booth sold fresh flowers, another sold old yearbook pictures. At the auction which followed the carnival, parties, art work, and the first lottery number for courses went to the highest bidder. The funds for the carnival and auction were donated to the Lehigh Association for Retarded Citizens.

Can you think of a better reason for parties, picnics, and competitive sports events than GREEK WEEKEND? The Muhlenberg Fraternity Council sponsored a weekend of such activities. On April 20, a rowdy crowd watched as various fraternity brothers drunk themselves into oblivion for the Drinking Contest. Following this event, the Eating Contest, Happy Hour, and the Campus Crawl were on agenda. The final day of this craziness was marked with the Softball Championship Game, Weight-lifting, and Tug-of-War Contest. PKT won the most points of these competitive activities and was named the Greek Weekend Champs.

GRADUATION

On a sunny, breezy day, seniors, family, and faculty gathered near the Chapel to begin commencement ceremonies. The event began at 3:00 on the afternoon of Sunday, May 21, 1978. G. N. Russell Smart, College Marshal, led the academic procession. This event marked the one hundred and thirtieth academic year for Muhlenberg.

The invocation, given by Rev. David Bremer, began the program. David C. Stohler, a graduating senior, presented a few of his personal insights to the Class of 1978. The keynote address was given by Rev. Paul C. Empie. The diplomas were distributed to the seniors and the commencement procedures quickly drew to a close.

1978 CIARLA

Take time to leaf through this representative collection of pictures and to read the thoughts printed in this 1978 Ciarla. Much time and effort has been sacrificed by our staff. We are grateful to those few people who have worked to make this publication a reality:

Alan Lee
Melanie Di Magistris
Bobbi Hunting
Pete Motel
Ron Wong
Ken Tacchino

Also, other people in the Muhlenberg Community have contributed their services. Their moral support has not gone unnoticed. They are:

Mrs. Frankenfield
Chuck Genna
College Computer Office
Weekly
Muhlenberg Post Office
Ginny Slusser
Scott Schooley
Cathy Dahlberg
Patrons

Our photographers went beyond the call of duty. Their talent manifests itself in this publication. We thank the following people for their contributions:

Marc Berson (photography editor)
Aletia Morgan

Kathy Levine
Jeff Chambers
Tim Schaadt
Jeff Reisl
Ted Maiser

The vital business end of the Ciarla was handled by Paul Dohramji. His efforts lightened the load of our task.

Cooperation was the key to the success of this yearbook. While some students made our job easier, others seemed to be most uncooperative. For example, after four phone calls to one fraternity we were still unable to obtain a group picture for the yearbook. The staff will not take the blame for neglect in this matter. On the other hand, some Muhlenberg professors willfully gave their time to write personal tributes to retiring colleagues. We thank the following professors for their generous contributions:

Dr. Vos for Dr. Erskine's tribute
Dr. Lohr for Dr. Frounfelker's tribute
Rev. Eichorn for Dr. Staack's tribute

We sincerely thank Lou Guarrieri (representative of Cooke Publishing Company) and Abe Orlick (of Davor Photo Studio) for their ceaseless patience and consideration in this endeavor.

PARTING SHOTS

We are the children of the 70's. How will our generation be recorded in history books? Only time will tell. Life "in the fast lane" has called for numerous, irreversible sociological changes. We missed out on the mythical "happy 50's" and "turbulent 60's." Now our generation is labeled as the "apathetic 70's." Weaned on television and other mass media, we appear to have dulled imaginations, inactive minds. (Statistics show a sharp decrease in SAT scores.) Faced with a highly technological society, where the computer has replaced the human touch, we make our way through a disjointed, impersonal world. Where values are under constant question, cynicism reigns.

The sanctity of college education is under attack, particularly the liberal arts education. Unfortunately, the college education does not always open the doors to great opportunities. Post-graduate work and professional school have become more of a need than an alternative. With the unstable economy and even bleaker job market, "getting by" has become more of a luxury than a commodity.

The future does not appear bleak, but rather as a challenge. How we deal with that challenge will determine our "success" and self-satisfaction.
